THE EDITOR'S OBSERVATORY

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

With this issue we complete the 25th volume of the JOURNAL, and a quarter of a century's continued existence. In the next issue I propose to write a retrospect in connection with the JOURNAL and Astrology in this country.

The complete programme for the next volume will also appear next month.

ASTROLOGICAL AMENITIES.

To allow a hitherto unknown student of Astrology several pages in which to make attacks and false accusations against astrologers and then to suppress the greater part of the reply of one of the latter on the paltry plea that the reply was too long, and thereby allow the false accusations to remain unrefuted, is to me a very unfair and improper procedure. It is to be regretted that the Editor of our contemporary, Modern Astrology, has been guilty of this action.

I have already referred to part of this matter in the May issue of the B.J.A., in connection with the question of House Division. The writer referred to also made the false accusation against me of having computed two different epochs of the late Queen Victoria, one contradicting the other, and then proceeded to make the very naive remark that "he thinks it desirable to give students the history of this case." His history (?) of the case was a garbled and wholly untrue version, which showed that he was entirely ignorant of the facts. He further accused me of not being satisfied with the original horoscope and that "I repudiated it by implication" (whatever that phrase may mean) by publishing another.

The real facts are that I did not compute the original epoch of the late Queen, published in Modern Astrology in 1901, as it was already in existence. The accusation that I did not seem satisfied with the original horoscope is also untrue, as never by word nor implication did I suggest such an opinion, while the fact that I have on more than one occasion made use of the original horoscope and directions is a distinct proof that I have never repudiated it.

It is true that I computed a second epoch of the late Queen; I had good reasons for so doing at the time. The original epoch calculated according to the rules given in the Manual of Astrology (which were incomplete) and which confirmed the rectification made by Dr. Simmonite, was definitely a male epoch, and for this reason I re-computed it, in accordance with the law of sex. When the sex degrees were finally revised, several years later, by the late Sepharial, the revision proved the original epoch to be correct, and also proved that the second was not an "epoch" at all.

This is a correct version of the facts connected with the matter, and a refutation of the inaccurate statements made in our contemporary.

CONFUSION WORSE CONFOUNDED.

The publication of the Lindbergh horoscopes has brought me several letters from America from which it appears that all sorts of contradictory statements are in vogue with regard to the birth times of the Colonel and his child. Dr. Thierens gave the birth place as St. Louis, Missouri. Others state that it was Detroit, Michigan, and also as West Falls, Minnesota. The birth time is also variously stated, evidently each astrologer having his own ideas, and relying on speculative evidence. The birth-time of the child is also stated to be 3.15 p.m. Summer time, which I do not think can be accepted in view of the authoritative time given by others.

Considerable trouble has been caused in the past by the publication of fictitious horoscopes, and American astrologers appear to be greatly to blame in the matter. President Wilson has at least two different horoscopes, while President Hoover has already three to his credit. This sort of thing is likely to do considerable harm to the science, and has already occasioned considerable confusion and annoyance. I hope our American friends will be a little more careful in future in regard to the birth times of their celebrities.

HOROSCOPE OF THE MONTH

By E. H. BAILEY

THE KING'S DIRECTIONS.

It is more than two years since I gave an article on the King's directions, and in response to several enquiries, I now present the progressed horoscope drawn by the Radix system of directing for September 1st, 1932, based on the rectified time of 1h. 20m. 6s. a.m. on 3rd June, 1865.

The ascendant has now progressed to the eleventh degree of the sign Cancer, and is therefore entering the Scorpio decanate of that sign. It has just left the square of Neptune, which is very typical of the grave difficulties brought about by Socialist misgovernment during 1931, the direction being exact in the critical period of last autumn.

Mars has also just separated from the sextile of the radical Sun, which followed on the heels of the latter influence, and brought about the great change in government, and a more active and progressive time for the country generally.

At the present time the progressed Part of Fortune is in sextile with the progressed Saturn and this will remain in force for at least another two years, and will considerably benefit the country, working classes, and trade.

During 1933, however, there are two evil influences operating, the sun being in square to the radical Mercury, and Saturn progressing to the square of the radical Moon, both of which measure to the summer months.

The square of the Sun and Mercury is not good for financial affairs, and as Mercury rules both the third and sixth, it is unfavourable for dealings with other powers, and for the workers. Mercury being in Taurus, will bring further trouble through the Irish Treaty and Oath of Allegiance, and in addition will bring trouble through the land and crops.

Saturn reaches the square of the Moon in the early summer of 1933, and the meridian of the horoscope in the late summer. These directions are malefic, although the latter is not so ominous, Saturn being dignified at birth and in sextile to Jupiter. In a measure they will be adverse for foreign relationships, in trade relations with other powers, and also point to domestic troubles.

The culminating of Saturn, which is usually an adverse direction, is in my view not so evil in this case, as Saturn holds a very strong and dignified position in the horoscope, and as Jupiter is in sextile thereto, and will be in sextile to the meridian by direction, I am inclined to think that it means a consolidation of the Empire and a great revival of Imperial projects.

The secondary Moon is now in Pisces 17.6, and it enters Aries by direction in July of 1933, coming to the square of the progressed Saturn and opposition of the radical Moon in August, when the effects of the major influence are likely to eventuate.

The eclipse of the Sun of 31st August, falls in opposition to the progressed meridian, and with Neptune hovering over the same point during the next 16 months, there appears to be a great amount of duplicity and double dealing in national affairs in evidence. This will be shown in November of this year, and again in March and May of next year.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

By VIVIAN E. ROBSON, B.Sc.

THE OTTAWA CONFERENCE.—Important conferences since the War have so often been begun under the very worst astrological conditions that one has come to expect this as a matter of course. Therefore, it is refreshing to find that the horoscope of the Ottawa Conference is much more promising than usual. It was opened on 21st July, the Greenwich time being 2.45 p.m. The map shows Gemini 25 on the midheaven, with Venus near the cusp, and Virgo 26 rising, the ruler Mercury being within a few minutes of the applying conjunction of Jupiter. Virgo is an appropriate sign under which to begin an economic conference; and the presence of the Moon in the 6th house and the Sun in the economic sign Cancer are equally in keeping with the aims of the conference. The conjunction of Mercury and Jupiter falls in the 11th house, which is a fortunate augury for agreement and smooth working. They receive the trine of Uranus from Aries, the ruling sign of England, which is placed in the 8th house, and this influence should have the effect of bringing new suggestions and legislative proposals of a very progressive and beneficial nature. Unfortunately the Moon is cadent, weak by sign and neither well nor strongly aspected. Its closest applying aspect is to the semisquare of Saturn in Aquarius, which not only shows delay, but also symbolises the hampering effect caused by our relations with Russia. With Fortuna well aspected in Taurus, however, and Mercury conjoined with Jupiter, little difficulty should be experienced in reaching an agreement on the question of wheat. The Sun in Cancer, ruling Canada, is appropriately enough in opposition to Saturn in Aquarius, and indicates the Canadian demand for protection against Soviet dumping. The Sun receives a square from Uranus in Aries, but it is in a stronger position in the map than Saturn, and the Canadian demands are likely to be met, though in a manner not entirely satisfactory. Comparison of this map with the horoscope of Canada shows some serious afflictions, and any advantages gained by the Conference will be at the expense of Canada, for Mercury and Jupiter here fall in opposition to Jupiter and Venus in the Canadian eighth house, and in square to Saturn in the fifth, while Uranus in Aries which supports the conjoined planets is in almost exact square with the Canadian Moon. Canada will lose money and its Government will incur unpopularity as a result of the agreements arrived at by the Conference. On 4th August, when Canada made her offer to the British delegates, Mercury had just turned retrograde, so that any definite arrangement seems unlikely until after the 27th when it becomes direct again. With the entry of Jupiter into Virgo, trade and economic conditions should show some improvement, but the outcome of the present Conference threatens to prove rather disappointing in the end. The 4th house shows Sagittarius on the cusp with Capricorn intercepted. Therefore the immediate period of the close and just after will come under Jupiter, which is extremely favourable and will put the results in a very optimistic light. But after this, the effect of the intercepted sign will be felt, and the influence of Saturn in Aquarius will begin to manifest itself, causing delay, doubt, and an unsatisfactory state of affairs, in which Russian influence will be marked. But at least the Conference will achieve something, which is more than can be said for all its predecessors.

THE AMERICAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.—I have been favoured by an American correspondent with the birth-data of the probable candidates in the forthcoming American Presidential Election, and I propose here briefly to examine each chart with a view to determining their respective chances of success. The candidates whose particulars have been sent me are President Hoover and General Charles E. Dawes on the Republican side, and Governor Ritchie, Mr. Alfred E. Smith, and Governor Roosevelt on the Democratic.

1. President Hoover. The horoscope of the present President was published in these pages in April, 1930, and there is, therefore, no need to repeat the map. I am using the rectification there suggested, which gives Aquarius 2 on the midheaven, and Taurus 24 on the ascendant. The midheaven of this horoscope has now come to Pisces 29, where it is passing from the opposition of Venus to that of Jupiter and the March eclipse. Saturn is in Aries in trine to the Moon, while Uranus is in Libra in sesquare with the ascendant.

These latter positions indicate, I think, that Mr. Hoover will obtain many votes in the Eastern States, but few in the Western. The directional afflictions to Jupiter and the ascendant are stimulated by the transits at the date of the election, 8th November, and during the following month Saturn comes to the conjunction of the radical midheaven. In the Rotary horoscope, the primary midheaven is in semisquare to Uranus, while the secondary oblique ascendant is in opposition to the eclipsed Jupiter. These are not very promising influences.

2. General Charles E. Dawes was born on 27th August, 1865, in latitude 39° N., longitude 81° W., at 3.32 p.m., his horoscope being as follows:—

10th—Scorpio 1.
11th—Scorpio 26.
12th—Sagittarius 17.
Asc.—Capricorn 8.
2nd—Aquarius 18.
3rd—Pisces 29.
Sun—Virgo 4.32.
Moon—Scorpio 16.35
Mercury—Virgo 22.38 R.
Venus—Cancer 22.59.
Mars—Virgo 28.21.
Jupiter—Sagittarius 19.23.
Saturn—Libra 26.34.
Uranus—Cancer 3.12.
Neptune—Aries 10.6 R.
Caput—Libra 23.25.

At the date of the election the Moon by major motion will be trine Mercury, opposition Venus and square the Nodes; Mars will be in Sagittarius 4.35 in square to the Sun; Saturn in Capricorn 2.48 in semisquare to the Moon; Uranus in Virgo 9.26 leaving the trine of the ascendant; and Neptune in Gemini 16.20 in sesquare with the midheaven, the minor Moon stimulating this direction by an opposition to the midheaven and a semisquare to Neptune. Thus General Dawes can be at once eliminated from the contest.

3. Governor A. C. Ritchie was born on 29th August, 1876, at 1.5 p.m. in Baltimore, when the positions were as follows:—

10th—Virgo 24.
11th—Libra 24.
12th—Scorpio 17.
Asc.—Sagittarius 8.
2nd—Capricorn 10.
3rd—Aquarius 18.
Sun—Virgo 6.41.
Moon—Capricorn 9.37.
Mercury—Virgo 27.9.

Venus—Cancer 23.23.
Mars—Virgo 1.12.
Jupiter—Scorpio 24.36.
Saturn—Pisces 4.33 R.
Uranus—Leo 21.25.
Neptune—Taurus 5.12 R.
Caput—Pisces 20.33.

The directions in this horoscope are not very numerous, but such as there are quite preclude success. The Moon has now reached Pisces 5.0, where it is passing from the conjunction of Saturn to the opposition of the Sun. This is stimulated by the position of the minor Moon in Aquarius 0 in square to the directional place of Saturn; while to make matters worse Saturn by transit is passing over this lunar position. I believe the time stated above is a rectified one, so I have not taken angular directions into much account.

4. Mr. Alfred E. Smith is another candidate who might well save himself time and money by retiring. He was born at New York on 30th December, 1873, at 5 p.m., and has the following horoscope:—

10th—Pisces 24.
11th—Taurus 0.
12th—Gemini 10.
Asc.—Cancer 14.
2nd—Leo 4.
3rd—Leo 26.
Sun—Capricorn 9.22.
Moon—Gemini 3.52.
Mercury—Sagittarius 20.15.
Venus—Sagittarius 26.14.
Mars—Aquarius 29.3.
Jupiter—Libra 1.22.
Saturn—Aquarius 2.8.
Uranus—Leo 9.44 R.
Neptune—Aries 25.48 R.
Caput—Taurus 12.4.

A very formidable set of directions arises out of this map. The oblique ascendant in Leo 28 is in opposition to Mars and in square to the directional Jupiter. The Moon is in Leo 1.52 in opposition to Saturn; Venus in Aquarius 24.14 in semisquare with the Sun; Jupiter in Scorpio 29.22 in sesquare with the ascendant; and Neptune in Gemini 23.48 in square with the midheaven. As in the other cases, these afflictions are not all of equal value. That of Neptune is powerful inasmuch as it afflicts the midheaven, while the Jupiter directions gain importance by the rulership of Jupiter over the midheaven and its radical square to the Sun. By minor motion the opposition of the Moon to Saturn is strongly stimulated, for the minor Moon is in Cancer 29 and just coming to the conjunction of its own directional place and the opposition of the radical Saturn, while Saturn afflicts by transit. It is interesting to note that all the candidates except President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt have afflictions by direction between Saturn and the Moon.

5. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was born on 30th January, 1882, near Poughkeepsie, New York, and according to information furnished by his mother, the time was 8 p.m. The horoscope is as follows:—

10th—Gemini 11.43.

11th—Cancer 16.

12th—Leo 18.

Asc.—Virgo 14.27.

2nd—Libra 9.

3rd—Scorpio 8.

Sun—Aquarius 11.6.

Moon—Cancer 5.51.

Mercury—Aquarius 27.9.

Venus—Aquarius 6.2.

Mars—Gemini 27.1 R.

Jupiter—Taurus 16.56.

Saturn—Taurus 6.6.

Uranus—Virgo 17.55 R.

Neptune—Taurus 13.47.

Caput—Sagittarius 5.41.

The directions here are of a much more promising nature. The Moon is close to the sextile of Mars in the midheaven, and Jupiter is separating from the conjunction of the radical Moon, while the oblique ascendant is in trine to Mars in the 10th, and to Mercury, ruler of that house. These two planets are active in the Rotary horoscope also, for by primary motion Mercury is in conjunction with the Moon, and Mars is in trine to that luminary; the secondary midheaven being in sextile to it. To offset these influences, however, we have midheaven semisquare Uranus and Saturn square Sun, Saturn by transit being near the opposition of the directional midheaven. It is quite clear that from an astrological point of view, the issue lies between Governor Roosevelt and Mr. Hoover, and of the two the former has the better chance. Comparing the directional positions from one map to the other gives us a further insight into the comparative strength of each. Taking Governor Roosevelt's directional positions in relation to Mr. Hoover's radical horoscope, we find Mars, the dominant planet, is in conjunction with the Sun; the Sun is elevated over, and in opposition to Jupiter; Saturn is elevated over, and in semisquare to, the Sun; and Uranus is elevated over, and in square to, the Sun, Moon, and Mars. Thus Governor Roosevelt's directional planets afflict Mr. Hoover's radical positions and in every case are elevated above them. Reversing the maps shows a series of afflictions from Mr. Hoover's directional planets to Governor Roosevelt's radical map, in which in every case Mr. Hoover's positions are again below those of his opponent. I think there is little doubt that Governor Roosevelt will be elected, except, of course, in the unlikely event of the entry of a new candidate with a stronger horoscope and better directions.

WORLD CYCLES.—Readers may remember that a year or two ago I made a not too successful attempt to find a date upon which the planets were in the positions traditionally stated to be those of the Horoscope of London. Since then in the light of further investigations I have come to the conclusion that the positions in question must be Kabalistic and relate to a system of World Cycles, though not to that of which a certain amount has been given out by Sepharial and myself. Some time ago my attention was drawn to a system used by Allaeus in the seventeenth century, and it may well be that it is upon this that the positions are based. The description of this system appears to be incomplete, and to be marred by one or two errors or misprints, but it is of considerable interest and worthy of reconstruction. The space at my disposal is not sufficient to allow me to give the details this month, but I intend to do so in the next issue.

THE SIGNAL BOX.—The New Moon of 31st August, is a Solar Eclipse falling in conjunction with Neptune and Jupiter in Virgo in the 6th house. An eclipse here is said to cause labour troubles, sickness, accidents, depressed trade, troublesome financial problems, injury to crops, and the death of a King. The public services will be affected by the 6th house position, and falling with the lord of the 9th house, the eclipse will bring some Naval restrictions as well as accidents at sea. The Stock Exchange is likely to be adversely affected by public and political events, and this is intensified by the Lunar eclipse on the 14th of the month. Cotton and wheat will both be affected by the eclipse, and so also will Industrials and Breweries. It should be noted that this eclipse falls on the place of the Sun in the horoscope of the English Monarchy and is part of a train of influences culminating in a month or so, when the King's horoscope

THE NEW RADIX SYSTEM OF DIRECTING

By E. H. BAILEY.

As this is the last issue of the present volume space prevents me from giving a further horoscope in illustration of the rules for computing directions by the Radix system, but I think that sufficient has been given to demonstrate the value of the new directions, which have hitherto been ignored in the orthodox system of progressive directing.

It is only fair, however, that all these new directions are equally applicable to the system of the progressed horoscope, and for those who prefer to use the latter, they can be applied with equal facility.

The value of the mid-points and mundane and rapt parallels has been fully shown by the several cases submitted, and particularly so in the horoscope of the late ex-King Manuel given in the last issue, where no other influences were in existence by the orthodox system of directing.

The calculations required are very simple, and all that is necessary is a table of the mid-points between the Sun and the planets, and the Moon and the planets, and if the student likes, between the planets themselves. These points can be progressed by mean motion, and can form aspects with the radical places of the planets, in exactly the same way as the sun forms directions to the other planets.

The ideas which have been put forward are not new, but have been under observation for several years, and a number of remarkable facts have been brought to light from authentic horoscopes, which definitely prove the value and reliability of these new directions.

I do not propose to publish any further special articles on this subject, or to give any more illustrations from horoscopes, as I consider that the subject has been fully ventilated and must now be left to the consideration of students. I shall, however, continue to use the directions in dealing with horoscopes of celebrities which appear from time to time in these pages. I would like to say, however, that the accusation which has recently been made that I am "boosting" the radix system, is wholly untrue. I hold no brief for any system of directing. I am still of opinion that the orthodox progressive system is reliable, and

REVIEWS OF BOOKS

THE CELL SALTS OF SALVATION. By Dr. G. W. Carey and Mrs. Inez E. Perry. Published by the Carey-Perry School of the Chemistry of Life, Hollywood, Los Angeles, California. Price 30s.

This remarkable work is divided into two parts, one from the pen of the late Dr. Carey, dealing with the relation of the Mineral Salts of the body to the signs of the Zodiac, and the other by Mrs. Perry, "An esoteric analysis and synthesis of the Zodiacal signs and the Physio-chemical Allocations."

The part written by Dr. Carey has been before students for some years, and reference has already been made to the twelve cell salts and their chemical action in the human body.

Mrs. Perry, however, carries the matter much further and deeper, and delves into the inner and esoteric mysteries connected with twelve signs and the chemical affinities, and produces many remarkable proofs of the definite relation of the signs with certain chemical salts, based on astrological analogies. Numerous references are made from the Bible and other esoteric works in support of the views put forward, and the author definitely establishes her premisses both on an esoteric and a scientific foundation. Each sign of the zodiac is dealt with in order and the value of the cell salt and its action on each organ of the body described in a manner never before attempted.

It is impossible in the short space at my disposal to adequately review this great work of upwards of 300 pages. It contains information hitherto unknown or even dreamed of. It describes in clear and concise language the value of the Bio-chemic system of medicine; it explains the wonderful action of each particular cell salt and explains many of the mysteries of life in a manner which no astrologer or writer has ever attempted to explain them.

Accompanying the book are two remarkable colour charts, one an "astro-chemical Physiological and Chromatic chart" of the twelve signs, giving the salts belonging to each sign, and the divisions of the body allied to each sign and the other a "Chart of Cosmic and Micro-cosmic Embryos" showing that the true path of the sun in the Universe shapes the form of the Embryo in Utero.

The work is well printed, in good easy-reading type, and strongly bound, and is worth much more than the price charged, on account of the vast amount of marvellous information which it contains. E. H. BAILEY.

MUNDANE ASTROLOGY

ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.

The new Moon of August 31st, which takes place just before eight in the evening, is a total eclipse of the Sun, but not visible in this country. It falls on the cusp of the sixth house, conjoined with Jupiter and Neptune, and in sesquisquare to Uranus, rising in Aries.

The map of the eclipse is appended:—

An eclipse falling in the first decan of Virgo is said to cause some great calamity, and the death of some king or great man. Falling in Virgo it will adversely affect crops, corn and the fruits of the earth, and in a human sign, will cause much sickness of an epidemic nature.

The rising position of Uranus threatens unrest in this country, danger of strikes and rioting. The revenues will be deficient, and receipts below the average. Railways will be unfortunate. The conjunction of Venus and Mars in the fourth house in square to Uranus threatens a rainy and stormy period, and will be detrimental to the harvest. Uranus in trine to Mercury shows much progress in metaphysical science, especially in schools.

The position of the eclipse on the cusp of the sixth house is not good for the working classes, and the conjunction of Neptune points to much dissatisfaction, communistic propaganda, and an increase of unemployment. The position of Saturn is evil for the Government, who will incur much adverse criticism, and may be in danger of defeat.

Many marriage scandals will occur, and unpleasant domestic episodes will come to light. The death of some noted naval officer is likely.

The eclipse falls on the lower meridian in the 61st degree of E. Long. This touches Central Asia, and the borders of Persia and Afghanistan. Seismic troubles are threatened in those parts and possibly famine.

The line of total eclipse runs through the north eastern portion of America, close to Montreal, Ottawa, New York and Boston. Canada will feel the evil influence of this eclipse.

The eclipse falls on the meridian in the 119th degree of W. Long. and will adversely affect crops, wheat, and agricultural affairs in Canada and the States.

Floods are threatened in S. Europe. The position of Saturn bodes troubles for the rulers of the Balkan countries.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.

A nearly total eclipse of the Moon takes place on September 14th, just after nine in the evening. The eclipse takes place in the third decan of Pisces, which is stated to cause robberies and promiscuous robberies and rapines, both on sea and land.

It falls in the eleventh house at London, but the Moon being in its north node and disposed of by Jupiter, should be beneficial to the Government. Accidents by rail and water are denoted. Shipping disasters will also occur, and storms are threatened in the Atlantic. The President of Portugal should safeguard his person, as Saturn is exactly on the meridian at Lisbon at the moment of eclipse.

The eclipse denotes many disasters and accidents, and points to much press recrimination. The triple conjunction of Mercury, Jupiter and Neptune will have a detrimental effect on the general welfare of the people, and especially children. Duplicity on the part of foreign nations is denoted.

The eclipse culminates in the 45 degree of E. Long., bringing disturbances and probably floods near Bagdad.

NEW LIGHT ON THE PRE-NATAL EPOCH

By E. H. BAILEY

As a fitting conclusion to this series of articles on the Epochal thesis, I want to call attention to the three-fold application of its laws.

Man is a tri-part being, a trinity of bodies, so to speak, a physical body, an etheric body or soul, and a spiritual body, and these are definitely allocated to the horoscope of birth, the lunar epoch and the solar epoch respectively. We need not go any further, or run wild on the supposititious ideas of causal bodies, or other unprovable ideas. We do not know that such exist, and even if they do, the idea of fitting an epoch several years before birth is laughable in the extreme.

Further, there is the epoch of quickening, a far more important date than any of these unprovable ones, because it is actually founded on a definite gestative law. I have said nothing about this up to the present, and so far as the JOURNAL is concerned I do not intend to, but a considerable amount of evidence has been accumulated, and is being reserved for separate publication.

Sufficient evidence has now been produced to show that the real pre-natal epoch is allied to the laws of generation, and that there is a definite zodiacal and lunar link between coition, epoch, quickening and birth. The few cases given in my work on Astrology and Birth Control have been supplemented by several others, all of which prove that the initial law is based on a strictly scientific and mathematical basis. This link cannot be obtained by the so-called system of soli-lunar interchanges.

Another important point on which little has been written is the question of what the lunar epoch really is. Whether we call it the Descent of the Monad, to use a Theosophical term, or whatever we may like to designate it, it has a definite relation to the character, faculty and destiny of the Individual. If we accept Re-incarnation as a fact, that it does most truly represent the evolutionary position of the Ego, at the end of its last incarnation. There are many points in connection with this side of the question which I cannot deal with here.

On the question of directions from the Epoch definite evidence has been produced to show that the lunar figure does adequately satisfy and demonstrate the known principles of directing in a most remarkable way.

Finally, the question of ante-natal defects, abnormalities of form and faculty, I have in these pages produced sufficient evidence to conclusively prove that value of the lunar figure in determining both the cause and nature of such defects and abnormalities.

There is, therefore, no need for me to further demonstrate the truth and value of the thesis by special articles. I shall, however, continue to make use of it in dealing with the horoscopes of notable people, and in other examples of remarkable births, which from time to time are brought into the light of day, in order that such a forest of facts may be planted as will leave no doubt as to its scientific value, and defeat the attempts to discredit it by false statements and equally false reasoning.

I am not the author or discoverer of the laws of the Epochal thesis, and claim but little originality in the part I have played in elucidating and demonstrating its value. To my late colleague, Sepharial, belongs the entire credit of the discovery, and it will stand for all time associated with his name as the greatest monument of Astrological skill when the names of those who have attempted to detract from and refute it, will be buried in oblivion.

THE PILLARS OF GEMINI

By MARKEON, M.A. (Oxon.)

The Morning Star of the Reformation rose in England, in the Midlands, Leicester and Lutterworth. Wycliffe translated the Bible and inspired the movement, which passed quickly beyond England to John Huss and Luther. It is interesting that the same modest city of Leicester can claim the great name of de Montfort as its own, the founder of Parliamentary or representative government. The spiritual movement, which was to free men's spirits from the tyranny of Leo, and the political device which was to be imitated all over the world and free men's lives from the royal tyranny of absolutism—another Leo manifestation—both came from Leicester. The student of occult history may wonder whether the third and culminating enterprise is also to come from that city, and if so, why?

The Reformation, extending over many years with varying fortunes, was the end of successful Leo dominion. England was ever the bulwark of the Reformation. Indeed the Pope's power had never gone unchallenged here. Somebody said that a native of Britain was always a heretic. The suppression of the Templars was undertaken only half-heartedly in England. King John, who betrayed his people to the Pope, quickly rued his diplomacy. King Charles, who was more or less openly a Catholic, made the further and crowning error of trying to get his subjects to pay him money. The touchstone of Taurus is in fact the very vitals of the British Constitution. A student interested in the development of English legal and constitutional usage will know what I mean. King Charles did all manner of outrageous things with impunity. But when he tried to tax people unlawfully, he lost his head.

Following on the Reformation came the establishment of the British Empire. For something like two thousand years, from about 200 B.C. to about 1750 A.D. the powers of Leo had had the best of the bargain. Shortly after 1700 A.D., at a date which might easily be made more definite, something happened which marks the effective conclusion of the conflict. From that date onwards Rome loses all along the line, and under English guidance and example, whatever her faults may have been, on the whole the world began to emerge from the straggling mists of the end of the Dark Ages. Taurus once again rules, and nation after nation, tribe after tribe, gladly or sadly, with or without comprehension, begin to admit its claims, and to hear its calls.

It is not difficult to establish the right of England to the great place which, in my reading of history, she occupies.

Wycliffe and de Montfort hold undisputed primacy in their respective spheres. The Mother of Parliaments still sits at Westminster and still, all things considered, is wise. In the wild lands our occupation has been civilising. I do not intend to deal here with the separation of the United States. They have their own task to perform. They are Manasseh while England is Ephraim. In Egypt and India we have eliminated plague and famine, and have taught so many of their people that they are clamouring for self-government. The wise student of history does not resent this clamour, even though he may well think that to yield to it at present would be premature. Rather does he see in it the fulfilment and confirmation of his great pride. His has been the task of civilising. Civilisation means fitness to govern. So well have we wrought, over there, in the persons of our sons, in the sweltering heat, in court and counting house, in war and commerce, that the tribes to whom we have given peace and justice and the hope of prosperity for the first time in all history are demanding of us that we should go now and let them do likewise. A little more, more patience, more wisdom, more hard work, and our job is done. When we step out of Delhi and leave a more or less united India to its own devices, we have finished the task that was set—the task that Rome was set and failed mightily to do—the task that has awaited these many centuries the honest man who alone could do it—the task that British honesty and common sense has well nigh done. Not quite yet, however.

The keynote of the present age, which is the dawn of Aquarius, seems most obviously to be mechanical industry. All that is derived from Britain. Watt and Stevenson, Faraday, Herschel and the rest of the originators were all British.

The enemy does not sleep, and is not yet willing to confess defeat. Many people say that the established church is once more in the hands of the foe. What grim conflict still is waged beneath the none-too-quiet surface of things is not easy to make sure. World depression and economic chaos is but the prelude to the last and decisive battle.

Spanish Armada and Napoleonic Wars were the engines of Roman destruction aimed at the island kingdom. The Great War was another such. Catholic power and opinion had grown immensely in the Fatherland by the time a half-mad Emperor lent himself to the foolish counsel of his Prussian henchmen. Since the war we have witnessed strained relations between England and—amazing thing—America, what time foolish newspapers on both sides of the Atlantic stirred up bitter memories and mad suspicions. Rome, disappointed but indefatigable, was actually using America as her next tool. The present President, defeating the Catholic candidate Al Smith, put an end to the absurd situation, and the danger has for the time passed away.

But much remains to be done. The masses still live in conditions which are a shame and an outrage not only upon Christian morals and good government, but also upon scientific management. Economic freedom has yet to be preached successfully. Doubtless it, too, will come from these shores.

Already the Divine commitment has been given, and the command has gone forth: Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: . . . The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord. (Isaiah xl., 2, 3.)

The two sticks of Ezekiel will be made one, the pillars J and B will be no longer in opposition: the Lion will lie down with the Lamb.

This is the last of the series entitled Pillars of Gemini. As I write the foregoing words the day of Mercury merges into the day of Jupiter, and the moon is just one degree from the conjunction of Jupiter. In one year from now what is uttered secretly will be shouted from the housetops: the issue will be joined. God defend the right. What is life without Him? Death with Him is life, and we wake to Millenium.

SCIENCE SUPPORTS ASTROLOGY

From the Montreal Star.

EXPERIMENTS BEAR OUT CLAIMS OF ASTROLOGERS.

POSSIBLE EFFECT OF STARS ON HEREDITY SHOWN IN MEASUREMENT OF COSMIC RAYS.

NEW YORK, July 19.—(A.P.)—Possibility that stars affect heredity slightly is shown in measurements of cosmic rays announced by two University of Denver physicists.

Many scientists believed these invisible rays come from the stars. The Denver men, J. C. Stearns and Wilcox Overback, compared them with the radium rays and found striking similarities.

Heredity comes into the picture because one of the latest discoveries of science shows that radium rays can affect heredity, even creating new species.

The Denver scientists describe their experiments in a letter to the Physical Review. They shielded two-tenths of a milligram of radium—about as much as the point of a pin—within a covering of lead, a centi-metre thick.

DELICATE METER.

Two metres away they set up a sensitive meter, which was geared both to record the faint radium rays filtering through the lead and the cosmic rays coming from the sky.

With the radium at this fixed distance, they found that the cosmic ray effects were constantly equal to about one-third of the radium rays in the power of ionization.

Ionization is the break-up of an atom. It is also the way in which radium rays are believed to have created the new species recently in laboratories. In the species-building the ionization broke up the atoms composing the Genes, tiny living units which control heredity.

Dr. Arthur H. Compton, of the University of Chicago, now conducting a world-wide series of tests, finds about 15 per cent. more cosmic rays in temperate than in tropic zones. But nowhere has science found enough cosmic rays to be really big factor in heredity. They are fewer than the radium rays naturally in the air and much less than the radium rays everywhere emanating from earth.

Scientists have speculated, however, as together there may have been periods in the remote past when cosmic rays fell more thickly. Both this speculation and the possibility that long ago there was more radium have been pointed out as interesting guesses upon the origins of new species of animals and plants many millions of years ago.

BIBLICAL PROPHECIES AND THE GREAT PYRAMID

By "ASTEL."

THE KEY—II.

We saw in our last that the four powers of the Germanic alliance in the Great War, formed the component parts of the great beast of John in the Revelation, and corresponded to the four beasts of Daniel. These beasts, when they became manifest as one great beast, had authority to continue forty and two months and this is what happened in the Great War. Bulgaria was the last to join the alliance in March, 1915, and she was the first to break it by capitulation in September, 1918, forty-two months after she had joined, so that the beast as a four power unit held together for 42 months, neither more nor less. After this the beast rapidly fell to pieces, culminating in the armistice of November, 1918.

The duration of the Great War was  $51\frac{1}{4}$  months, and the length of the first low passage is  $51\frac{1}{4}$  inches; the duration of the beast as a four power unit was 42 months, and the height of the passage is 42 inches; the actual height of the passage now is 43.7 inches, owing to wear and tear and distortion, but there is no doubt that 42 inches was the original height as it is at present in the second low passage.

So we see that the prophecy, and the Great Pyramid, and the historical fulfilment, synchronise exactly, giving us the key that unlocks the mysteries which surround a whole host of prophecies concerning the Tribulation.

You will see in the plate of the Key, that the handle is formed by the Boss, which enables us to unlock the mysteries of the various passages and chambers of the Great Pyramid, and enables us to read the meaning of the Antechamber in the light of the history of Israel as told in the Bible, again synchronising the Bible, the Pyramid and current history.

We are told in Revelation xiii., 3, that one of the heads of the beast was smitten unto death, and his death stroke was healed. This, of course, would refer to the Hohenzollern dynasty (heads being the symbols of dynasties) when the ex-Kaiser fled into Holland and has remained there ever since. The prophecy, however, foretells the revival of this dynasty, which according to the Pyramid, cannot be long delayed. It probably will not happen whilst the ex-Kaiser, Wilhelm II., is alive, but when he dies there will be great activity on the part of the Hohenzollerns in an endeavour to re-establish the dynasty upon the throne of Prussia. Some very interesting developments will take place in this connection.

The Great Pyramid proclaims that the present representatives of the Hohenzollerns are not the rightful claimants to the throne of Prussia, but that the powerful king which the dynasty is to produce, will come from a branch of the true line of the Hohenzollerns, and will also come from a branch of the House of David or Windsor, which is its modern equivalent, probably through one of the British princesses who have at other times married into the Hohenzollern family.

The analogy in the Antechamber with the history of Israel, supplies us with the approximate date that this event will take place. We have seen that the second open groove represents the period of history from Joshua to David, so by analogy we may expect this king to become manifest some time about 1934-35, the end of the groove being 29th August, 1935. And here we would interpose a warning, because there are many zealous students of the prophecies who are preaching the return of Christ about this time, and it is the purpose of the Devil to persuade the world that this minion of his, this great king is indeed the Christ, and this will lead many millions astray, as it is written in the scriptures, "for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie: that they all might be judged who believed not the truth."

The analogy of the Antechamber supplies us with a lot more information concerning the times immediately ahead of us. The Economic Crisis as we have shown, commenced in May, 1928, and continued until June, 1932, improving steadily from then until it reaches a maximum about 1936, thereafter declining slowly until 1940 is reached. We judge this from the analogy of Israel history, the second groove, as we have stated, representing the period Joshua to David, this historically being the establishing of the Phœnician Golden Age, which was in reality the industrial development of Israel, which reached its peak in the reign of Solomon, and disappeared altogether when Israel went into captivity. We reach the second low passage at the end of 1939, when Israel again passes into the shadows, analogous to the time that both kingdoms went into captivity.

There is also another event of great importance prophesied to take place about this time, an event which will act as a counter-blast to the activities of Satan and which will be of great benefit to Great Britain, and this is the prophecy concerning the coming of Elijah, who is to restore all things and prepare the way for the coming of our Lord. This is shown by analogy to take place some time after 1936, but before 1939, because historically Elijah's place is during the period of Rehoboam till the captivities, represented by the third groove in the Antechamber, which commences on the 3rd July, 1936.

This last period, according to the analogy, will be a troublous time, a time of anxiety and fear for what is coming upon the world as recorded by St. Luke, "Men fainting for fear and for expectation of the things which are coming on the world: for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken." But we have the assurance of the comforting words which follow, "but when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads; because your redemption draweth nigh." (Luke xxi., 22-28.)

TWENTY REASONS WHY ASTROLOGY SHOULD BE STUDIED

1.—Because it investigates and teaches the great mathematical laws of the universe in a manner that no other science does or could do.

2.—Because these laws were the first laws that we introduced to the observation of man; and not only do they co-operate with nature, but they are confirmed by history, tradition, and scripture.

3.—Because they are founded upon the Old and New Testaments, and no person can have a proper understanding of these books or comprehend them in their true meaning without some Astrological knowledge.

4.—Because the science teaches you the true meaning of BROTHERHOOD, and makes clear to you the clear meaning of undefiled Christianity in its three-way aspect of Faith, Hope and Charity.

5.—Because it teaches you the true meaning of cause and effect and proves Reincarnation to you in a logical and consistent manner.

6.—Because no person without a knowledge of its teachings is qualified to advise his friends or entertain any great or important matter unless his judgment has been developed by its infallible laws.

7.—Because a man without Astrology is like a cork on a wave, tossed about at the mercy of what he is pleased to term CHANCE, unable to direct his life on the line of least RESISTANCE which is the line of the greatest PROGRESS.

8.—Because the science has vindicated its TRUTH in all ages and with all classes of men, and never in the history of the world has it ever been disproved, nor has there ever been found a great thinker who has studied the science and then condemned it.

9.—Because it has been studied by the greatest thinkers of all countries, and accepted by them as absolute and irrefutable proof in dealing with the destiny and life of man.

10.—Because it makes a man master of his faults if he follows its laws; while at the same time it allows him to adopt the profession or trade most suited to his temperament, and shows him the line of greatest success.

11.—Because above all it points out the times of adversity and prosperity, thus showing when to push ahead and when to keep quiet, and enables a man to get the greatest result from his efforts.

12.—Because it describes the class of person to cultivate that is suited to your individual temperament, thus avoiding much strife and friction in your dealing with others.

13.—Because it describes the proper person to choose for a wife or husband; while at the same time it will show you your open and secret enemies.

14.—Because it shows you the weakest part of your body, and the part where disease will first attack you, thereby enabling you to adopt the proper remedies and those that are most natural and above the power of man to change.

15.—Because it points the time of accidents, and shows if the person is liable to accidents or not, and also their kind and the part of the body affected.

16.—Because it allows you to set a figure for any important happening, and enables you to get a practical judgment of the thing and the persons concerned.

17.—Because it enables you to find the proper place to live, both for health and prosperity; and points out whether it would be beneficial to leave your native place for abroad.

18.—Because there is not a thing or a happening in life but what the science of Astrology will give you a practical answer in the direction to take.

19.—Because it is the basis of all RELIGIONS IN EXISTENCE, and the foundation upon which the whole of the architecture rests. This is impossible to refute when all sectarian bias is eliminated.

20.—Because it proves the truth of the DIVINE POWER, and shows that God's Laws are mathematical laws; thereby developing and eventually proving that God is a personal being in whose IMAGE we are made; beginning with the Trinity in the heavens and ending with the three centres in the body of man.

HOROSCOPICAL HERESIES

By James Harvey, F.T.S.

This is a strange and wonderful age, wherein many wonders have been brought to light: which, when contemplated, sometimes comes the idea from the inner darkness of the mind, that we shall awake and find this world of advancement and learning, a mere passing dream. For is it not so that we are living in a world of magic, where, what was considered tales of the Arabian Nights or fairy legend, are amongst us in indisputable reality: wireless, television, and all the other scientific miracles that have become manifest on our great sphere, and in the civilisation of to-day. In the last fifty years the world has advanced at a speed in discovery and invention, that has no parallel in any other age.

And with this great unfoldment that has taken place, there has arisen a spirit of striving to emulate and bring about wonders upon wonders amongst people who wish to be above all in everything. These persons are of a nature that will do anything to be outstanding, from the gilding of refined gold, to the advising of a Creator in the making of a world. And these emulators (?) of a truth are of a dangerous aspect, from the fact that they mislead in many pursuits, to the detriment of the themes that they interfere with, destroying the prestige, reputation and rational recommendation of their scientific construction. This has occurred, as the observant mind knows, with old world truths, theses, and practices, until the procedures would become ridiculously unrecognisable were they not kept immune in their pristine form by the earnest student and truthseeker.

This is terribly true in the case of Astrology as those conversant with the facts know how much it has been mutilated in the attempt to introduce new factors and additions of an unscientifically, unfounded nature. To-day there are those who have introduced rulerships for which no reason for doing so has been adduced. Astrology in its original ancient aspect fully fulfils its purpose, and resolves any problem that is submitted, and makes evident the procedure to be adopted in any matter that is to be subjected to its analysis, rules and advice. There are many people prevalent in this time who work in vague points, and make rules that are neither founded in experience or reason. It is not to be understood that I am condemning the efforts of the person who is anxious in their scientific research to improve and simplify that which has survived from the ancient past. The science, like all other sciences, is not complete in its use or application, owing to the fact that some parts of the practice are wanting in the teaching. But nevertheless, Astrology fulfils its purpose exceedingly well. The science is as open and plain as noonday to them who have absorbed and adhered to the ancient, simple principles inasfar as they are known. To endow it with an occult or supernatural mien is, of all procedures, the one which has done most harm to the advancement of Astrology in the field of intellectual people. Astrology is neither occult nor supernatural, being merely a science of tabulation of the forces of planetary action, predominating in the life of a breathing soul. That is all it is and nothing more. But simple as it is, yet it is not small, but embraces the infinitude of God and the forces of the stellar universe. It is great and colossal in its comprehension, yet simple and beautiful in its construction and application. And by all means let it be kept in that position, so that it stands to its purpose faithfully.

To endeavour to make it any other thing than what it really is, is heresy, and to those who seek the task of embellishing that which cannot be embellished, in the words of the ancient church, "Let them be anathema!" Astrology is a science of guidance and warning. It is nothing more, it cannot predict, far more prophecy; it can only guide and warn. And to those who know Astrology, nothing more is claimed for the ancient lore of stars. And in this it is beautiful, as an everlasting truth. Left in the hands of these ritualists, symbolists, mysticists, and the other farcical, feather-brained fanatics, who live in a world of moonshine, Astrology would become, in the phraseology of Carlyle, "a heterogenous mass of clotted bosh." Astrology is a simple truth that guides and warns. This is the truth: all other is heresy.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF ASTROLOGY

By E. W. WHITMAN.

The constructive and Positive principle of Safety, together with the destructive and Negative principle of Fear both come under the domination of the planet Saturn. This planet is Earthy in its nature and has much to do with the material, practical and business sides of life, bringing many responsibilities in its wake and causing anyone under its domination to a major extent to view life seriously, to gravitate naturally towards positions of authority and to be ambitious.

Apart from the material or the mental vibration, the Spiritual influence of this or any other planetary body should always be taken into account for evolution brings equal advances in all three directions.

Saturn is essentially connected with the element of time, and is the planet of pre-destination, thus being closely linked with the Karmic ties binding all of us which are commonly designated by the word "FATE."

In Egypt, Saturn was represented by the deity Seb, who was the God of Earth. He was also known as the symbol of Time, and guarded the entrances to the underworld. It is peculiarly a part of Saturn's influence from a spiritual standpoint to test and try the evolving Ego and the sign Capricorn over which it rules is known as the "Southern Gate," the gateway through which souls ascend to the Gods. The tests that Saturn brings are usually severe in their nature, and to pass through them successfully involves a polarisation of the desires heavenward instead of earthward, the personal will surrendering to the Divine Will. This implies an overcoming of the selfish instincts of the Personality, for otherwise Justice must prevail and the Law of Cause and Effect, or Karma, operates. All of us are therefore individually responsible for our present status and condition of life. By our thoughts, feelings, emotions and actions in the past we have deliberately created the matrix upon which the present develops, and during the present are creating the matrix for the future.

In dealing with present conditions and in examining our conduct and attitude towards them, due allowance should naturally be made according to the prevailing factors in the horoscope at birth. Those who have Capricorn or Aquarius rising or who have one or both luminaries in these signs, especially in Capricorn, will feel the vibration of Saturn more keenly and the principles of Safety and Fear will be understandable by them to a greater extent and inwardly they will know by their own thoughts, emotions and contemplated activities, which of the two principles are the stronger. If there is much hesitancy, a dislike of responsibility even when accepted, and a feeling of nervousness and undue anxiety when faced with difficulties, then the element of Fear, whether realised or not, is strong and has been inculcated into the character in the past. When there is less hesitancy, an acceptance of responsibility because it is the right thing to do, but a great deal of sensitiveness and caution, then the condition of Fear is being overcome and what may be termed the middle stage has been reached.

When responsibility is sought after, and conditions are faced with thoughtfulness, coolness and reflection, and the mental powers are brought to bear upon difficulties with the idea of making provision against possible eventualities and of working through adverse circumstances to a position of security, then Fear has been overcome and the constructive vibration of working for Personal Safety and Security is operating.

To reach the latter stage time and experience are necessary, and it is not possible in the short span of one earth life to go through all the conditions leading to this stage. Development can, however, be accelerated by an active endeavour on our part following a conscious realisation of our own weakness. As man gradually develops consciousness, his reasoning faculties would inspire him to protect himself from the ruthlessness of the wild, and following thus would come the next great step of progress. Once having protected himself and brought about a degree of Personal Safety, his next thought would be to extend the area of that Safety, and in order to do so he would in turn have to become the aggressor, going forth purposely to do battle with the contending forces, elemental, vegetable, animal and even human. Thus the Aggressive principle would begin to develop, and when man found himself able to subdue and conquer forces possibly stronger than himself, the personal elation of victory would encourage him to further efforts and the greater the effort made, the stronger would become the principle of personal courage if the new directions are added to it, is even more so. Personally, I prefer the Radix system, because I have found it to be more reliable and several astrologers I know are of the same opinion.

At the same time I do not desire that students should discard the progressive system of directing merely because I prefer the other. Everyone must act according to their predictions, but I am fully satisfied that if all students will give the radix system a complete and unbiassed examination, and use the new rules which I have given in these pages, they will soon be satisfied as to which method is the better of the two.

and the desire for conquest. Brute force and strength of physique would be great assets, and a man born with these would stand a better chance of survival and conquest than those who were weak. At this stage evolution is shown to be becoming more complex, for two principles are at work instead of one, and although the mentality had not yet developed there would be an instinctive appraising of values and possibilities and the necessity for protection on the one hand and the desire for the additional benefits brought by conquest on the other would naturally set up a degree of mental action in the extension of the benefits to be derived from either or both lines of action.

TEXT - BOOK ON MATHEMATICAL ASTROLOGY. By M. Vijayaraghavulu, B.A.

Since Ptolemy's time the errors and inaccuracies met with in modern Astrological calculations have been allowed to grow and thrive, only to vitiate judgments based upon them. This great work is an effort to purge the mathematical section of almost all blunders which have hitherto been accepted as correct data. It is believed that this is the only book which treats the subject in a systematic, connected, exhaustive, lucid, and above all, correct form. Cr. 8vo. Cloth Gilt. 21s. net. Post Free 22s.
